PEACE TIME IS PROVIDED

PARIS, Jan. 18.—Marshal Foch. Admiral Browning and the German armistice commissioners signed an agreement for a renewal of the armistice hetween the allies and Germany Thursday. The armistice is extended for one menth and the extension will be renewed thereafter until the conclusion of peace, subject to the approval of the allied governments.

The principal terms of the renewal are substantially as reported. In addition, there is a clause by which the allied command reserves the right to foccupy that part of the Strassburg defenses comprised by the forts of the eastern bank of the Rhine and a strip of territory from three to six miles beyond. Other clauses provide for the substitution for supplementary railroad material, fixed at 500 locomotives and 1,900 cars by the protocol of December, by large quantities of industrial and TREVES, Jan 18 (By the Associated TREVES, and is the conviction of Mar-press.)—It is the conviction of Mar-stal Foch that the Rhine must be made the harrier between Germany and France. He expressed this clearly when he received American newspaper correspondents. The marshal is here in connection with the meeting concerning the extension of the German armistice. Marshal Foch pointed out the difficulties that had been overcome and said that peace must be commensurate with the price of victory. Germany now was beaten, he added, but with her resources, especially in men, recuperation in a short time was nuite possible, and it was now the duty of the ailles to prevent further aggressions.

Marshal Foch praised the work of the American troops, and said that Gen. Fershing had asked that the American troops and said that Gen. For he had been concentrated for an attack on one sector. His addition to the circuit will make it cover just a week. for more. "Doubtless any general would have preferred to have continued the struggle and to have battle when the battlic which effered itself was so promising, but a father of a family could not help but think of the blood that most help but think of the blood that would be shed. A victory, however easy, costs the lives of men. We held victory in our grasp without any further sacrifice. We took it as it came. "The German high command was not ignorant of the faut that it faced a colossal disaster. When it surrendered everything was prepared for an offensive in which it would infallibly have succumbed. On the 14th we were to sttack in Lorraine with 20 French divisions and six American divisions. This attack would have been supported by other movements in Flanders and in the center.

"The Germans were lost. They capitulaied. There is the whole story.

"And now we must make a peace which will correspond with the magnitude of our victory. We must have a peace as absolute as was our success and which will guard us against all future aggressions. Charles Humbert, a member of the French senate and former editor of the Paris newspaper, Le Journal, became involved during the trials of Belo Pasha, who was executed for treason, and the directors of the Germanophile newspaper, Bonnet Rouge, Revelations during the inquity into the Bolo Pasha had bought an interest with money that came from the German foreign office through banking houses in New York. While the case was pending it was alleged that fresh evidence of communicating with the enemy had been discovered. This was early last August and the court-martial of M. Humbert, fixed for August 26, was postponed late in September a formul demand was laid before the French senate for the consent of that body to prosecute M. Humbert on a charge of treason, the peace as absolute as was our success and which will guard us against all future aggressions.

"France has a right to effective measures of protection after the formidable efforts she has put forth to save civilisation. The national frontier which will protect civilisation is the Rhine.

"It is on the Rhine that we must hold the Germans. It is by using the Rhine that we must make it impossible for them to recommence the coup of 1914. The Rhine is the common barrier of all the allies, precisely of all those who united to save civilisation. The Rhine is the guarantee of peace for all the nations who have shed their bleod in the cause of liberty. Then let us watch on the Rhine.

"We have no idea of attacking Germany or of recommencing the war. Democracles such as ours never attack. They ask but to live in peace and to grow in peace, but whe can say that Germany—where democratic ideas are so recent and perhaps superficial—will not quickly recover from its defeat?

"England has the channel to cross. America is far away. France must always he in a position to safeguard the general interests of mankind. Those interests are at sizh on the Rhine. It is there that we must prepare to guard against the painful surprises of the future.
